

FRAGMENTS – EXERCISE 5

Directions: Choose the option that fixes the fragment. Check your answers with the interactive version of the exercise.

1. Scooting the glass of iced tea closer to her plate. Brave Vanessa dipped the tortilla chip into Pedro's infamous hot sauce.
  - A. Scooting the glass of iced tea closer to her plate, brave Vanessa dipped the tortilla chip into Pedro's infamous hot sauce.
  - B. Scooting the glass of iced tea closer to her plate brave Vanessa dipped the tortilla chip into Pedro's infamous hot sauce.
  - C. Brave Vanessa dipped the tortilla chip into Pedro's infamous hot sauce scooting the glass of iced tea closer to her plate.
2. As he scrubbed the tile grout with a toothbrush and bleach. Nick vowed never again to let the bathroom get so filthy.
  - A. As he scrubbed the tile grout with a toothbrush and bleach Nick vowed never again to let the bathroom get so filthy.
  - B. As he scrubbed the tile grout with a toothbrush and bleach, Nick vowed never again to let the bathroom get so filthy.
  - C. Nick vowed never again to let the bathroom get so filthy, as he scrubbed the tile grout with a toothbrush and bleach.
3. To keep her basset hound away from the pizza, Ana keeps the squirt bottle within reach. So that she can "draw" like a gunslinger if a dog tongue gets too close.
  - A. To keep her basset hound away from the pizza, Ana keeps the squirt bottle within reach, so that she can "draw" like a gunslinger if a dog tongue gets too close.
  - B. To keep her basset hound away from the pizza, Ana keeps the squirt bottle within reach; so that she can "draw" like a gunslinger if a dog tongue gets too close.
  - C. To keep her basset hound away from the pizza, Ana keeps the squirt bottle within reach so that she can "draw" like a gunslinger if a dog tongue gets too close.

4. Even though the windows leak and the paint is peeling, Georgette loves her old pickup truck. The vehicle that has dependably taken her everywhere since junior year of high school.
- A. Even though the windows leak and the paint is peeling, Georgette loves her old pickup truck; the vehicle that has dependably taken her everywhere since junior year of high school.
  - B. Even though the windows leak and the paint is peeling, Georgette loves her old pickup truck, the vehicle that has dependably taken her everywhere since junior year of high school.
  - C. Even though the windows leak and the paint is peeling, Georgette loves her old pickup truck the vehicle that has dependably taken her everywhere since junior year of high school.
5. Deidre must watch her baby constantly, for Mathew likes to crawl on the floor and pop whatever he finds into his mouth. Such as fuzz-covered candies, dog biscuits, and dead bugs.
- A. Deidre must watch her baby constantly, for Mathew likes to crawl on the floor and pop whatever he finds into his mouth such as fuzz-covered candies, dog biscuits, and dead bugs.
  - B. Deidre must watch her baby constantly, for Mathew likes to crawl on the floor and pop whatever he finds into his mouth: such as, fuzz-covered candies, dog biscuits, and dead bugs.
  - C. Deidre must watch her baby constantly, for Mathew likes to crawl on the floor and pop whatever he finds into his mouth. For example, he has eaten fuzz-covered candies, dog biscuits, and dead bugs.
6. Baking in his hot car during rush-hour traffic, Joe drank the last few drops of his iced tea. And prayed that he could make the costly repair to his broken air conditioner with this week's paycheck.
- A. Baking in his hot car during rush-hour traffic, Joe drank the last few drops of his iced tea and prayed that he could make the costly repair to his broken air conditioner with this week's paycheck.
  - B. Baking in his hot car during rush-hour traffic, Joe drank the last few drops of his iced tea and he prayed that he could make the costly repair to his broken air conditioner with this week's paycheck.
  - C. Baking in his hot car during rush-hour traffic, Joe drank the last few drops of his iced tea, and prayed that he could make the costly repair to his broken air conditioner with this week's paycheck.

7. To stomach the cup of strong coffee that he desperately needed to keep awake. Lawrence added seven packets of sugar and a quarter cup of cream.
  - A. To stomach the cup of strong coffee that he desperately needed to keep awake, Lawrence added seven packets of sugar and a quarter cup of cream.
  - B. Lawrence added seven packets of sugar and a quarter cup of cream, to stomach the cup of strong coffee that he desperately needed to keep awake.
  - C. To stomach the cup of strong coffee that he desperately needed to keep awake Lawrence added seven packets of sugar and a quarter cup of cream.
8. Jaime grabbed the leash with both hands and threw his weight backward. To keep Roxie, his German shepherd, from attacking Mr. Velasquez, who was walking down the sidewalk.
  - A. Jaime grabbed the leash with both hands and threw his weight backward; to keep Roxie, his German shepherd, from attacking Mr. Velasquez, who was walking down the sidewalk.
  - B. Jaime grabbed the leash with both hands and threw his weight backward, to keep Roxie, his German shepherd, from attacking Mr. Velasquez, who was walking down the sidewalk.
  - C. Jaime grabbed the leash with both hands and threw his weight backward to keep Roxie, his German shepherd, from attacking Mr. Velasquez, who was walking down the sidewalk.
9. O'Neil quietly closed the front door and tiptoed through the living room. Hoping not to wake his sleeping mother, who would begin a loud and long lecture on missing curfew.
  - A. O'Neil quietly closed the front door and tiptoed through the living room hoping not to wake his sleeping mother, who would begin a loud and long lecture on missing curfew.
  - B. O'Neil quietly closed the front door and tiptoed through the living room, hoping not to wake his sleeping mother, who would begin a loud and long lecture on missing curfew.
  - C. O'Neil quietly closed the front door and tiptoed through the living room; hoping not to wake his sleeping mother, who would begin a loud and long lecture on missing curfew.

10. Erin cannot tolerate tight and restrictive clothing. Because, she claims, she was wrapped too tightly as a mummy in her previous Egyptian life.
- A. Erin cannot tolerate tight and restrictive clothing because, she claims, she was wrapped too tightly as a mummy in her previous Egyptian life.
  - B. Erin cannot tolerate tight and restrictive clothing, because, she claims, she was wrapped too tightly as a mummy in her previous Egyptian life.
  - C. Erin cannot tolerate tight and restrictive clothing; because, she claims, she was wrapped too tightly as a mummy in her previous Egyptian life.
11. Whenever Delores makes her infamous rubbery meatballs. David sneaks them off his plate and into the willing mouth of Jellybean, the family's terrier.
- A. Whenever Delores makes her infamous rubbery meatballs David sneaks them off his plate and into the willing mouth of Jellybean, the family's terrier.
  - B. Delores makes her infamous rubbery meatballs whenever David sneaks them off his plate and into the willing mouth of Jellybean, the family's terrier.
  - C. Whenever Delores makes her infamous rubbery meatballs, David sneaks them off his plate and into the willing mouth of Jellybean, the family's terrier.
12. While Kristy labored through another evening of incomprehensible accounting homework, her roommate Bob read a sci-fi novel. And ate an entire bag of potato chips.
- A. While Kristy labored through another evening of incomprehensible accounting homework, her roommate Bob read a sci-fi novel and ate an entire bag of potato chips.
  - B. While Kristy labored through another evening of incomprehensible accounting homework, her roommate Bob read a sci-fi novel, and ate an entire bag of potato chips.
  - C. While Kristy labored through another evening of incomprehensible accounting homework, her roommate Bob read a sci-fi novel and he ate an entire bag of potato chips.

13. To make her ex-boyfriend Brad jealous, Georgia saved her money. To buy a black dress that would turn men's heads at the winter dance.
- A. To make her ex-boyfriend Brad jealous, Georgia saved her money, to buy a black dress that would turn men's heads at the winter dance.
  - B. To make her ex-boyfriend Brad jealous, Georgia saved her money to buy a black dress that would turn men's heads at the winter dance.
  - C. To make her ex-boyfriend Brad jealous, Georgia saved her money; to buy a black dress that would turn men's heads at the winter dance.
14. Anyone who enters Cedric's apartment can tell that this young man has a dog. For example, puncture marks in the mini blinds, dog snot clouding the windows, and paw prints on the beige upholstery.
- A. Anyone who enters Cedric's apartment can tell that this young man has a dog; for example, puncture marks in the mini blinds, dog snot clouding the windows, and paw prints on the beige upholstery.
  - B. Anyone who enters Cedric's apartment can tell that this young man has a dog; for example: puncture marks in the mini blinds, dog snot clouding the windows, and paw prints on the beige upholstery.
  - C. Anyone who enters Cedric's apartment can tell that this young man has a dog. For example, there are puncture marks in the mini blinds, dog snot clouding the windows, and paw prints on the beige upholstery.
15. Bored with the revision of his research essay. Patrick poked the soft front of his flat-screen monitor, fascinated by its squishy surface.
- A. Bored with the revision of his research essay, Patrick poked the soft front of his flat-screen monitor, fascinated by its squishy surface.
  - B. Bored with the revision of his research essay Patrick poked the soft front of his flat-screen monitor, fascinated by its squishy surface.
  - C. Because he was bored with the revision of his research essay Patrick poked the soft front of his flat-screen monitor, fascinated by its squishy surface.

16. Despite Cassandra's stern warning, Alex walked over to flirt with Helen. The most beautiful—and dangerous—woman at the party.
- A. Despite Cassandra's stern warning, Alex walked over to flirt with Helen; the most beautiful—and dangerous—woman at the party.
  - B. Despite Cassandra's stern warning, Alex walked over to flirt with Helen the most beautiful—and dangerous—woman at the party.
  - C. Despite Cassandra's stern warning, Alex walked over to flirt with Helen, the most beautiful—and dangerous—woman at the party.
17. All my friends wanted to spend Friday afternoon at the beach. Except Michael, the worrier, who was concerned about shark bites, jellyfish stings, and skin cancer.
- A. All my friends wanted to spend Friday afternoon at the beach; except Michael, the worrier, who was concerned about shark bites, jellyfish stings, and skin cancer.
  - B. All my friends wanted to spend Friday afternoon at the beach. Michael, however, was concerned about shark bites, jellyfish stings, and skin cancer.
  - C. All my friends wanted to spend Friday afternoon at the beach. Excluding Michael, the worrier, who was concerned about shark bites, jellyfish stings, and skin cancer.
18. Since the roof of Orlando Hall leaks, students know to check their seats. To avoid soaking their pants in a puddle of water and then sitting in damp underwear for an entire class.
- A. Since the roof of Orlando Hall leaks, students know to check their seats to avoid soaking their pants in a puddle of water and then sitting in damp underwear for an entire class.
  - B. Since the roof of Orlando Hall leaks, students know to check their seats, to avoid soaking their pants in a puddle of water and then sitting in damp underwear for an entire class.
  - C. Since the roof of Orlando Hall leaks, students know to check their seats; to avoid soaking their pants in a puddle of water and then sitting in damp underwear for an entire class.

19. As waves of boring information rolled from Professor Clark's mouth. Kris grabbed his mental surfboard and spent the rest of the hour riding fantasy waves.
- A. As waves of boring information rolled from Professor Clark's mouth Kris grabbed his mental surfboard and spent the rest of the hour riding fantasy waves.
  - B. Waves of boring information rolled from Professor Clark's mouth, while Kris grabbed his mental surfboard and spent the rest of the hour riding fantasy waves.
  - C. As waves of boring information rolled from Professor Clark's mouth, Kris grabbed his mental surfboard and spent the rest of the hour riding fantasy waves.
20. To make Sylvia, the party's hostess, happy. Kelvin steeled himself, dipped his spoon into the squid eyeball stew, and began to empty the bowl.
- A. To make Sylvia, the party's hostess, happy; Kelvin steeled himself, dipped his spoon into the squid eyeball stew, and began to empty the bowl.
  - B. To make Sylvia, the party's hostess, happy Kelvin steeled himself, dipped his spoon into the squid eyeball stew, and began to empty the bowl.
  - C. To make Sylvia, the party's hostess, happy, Kelvin steeled himself, dipped his spoon into the squid eyeball stew, and began to empty the bowl.

